TAXPAYERS' REPORT

In this week's article, I would like to focus on our Emergency Medical Services that operates in this county, as well as assists with our neighboring counties, as services are required. Our EMS operates 24 hours a day, 365 days per year, and is staffed with mostly volunteers that sign up for shifts all through the day and night.

When the call comes in from a member of our community that needs emergency medical attention, it is these EMS volunteers who answer the call. In addition to EMS, our Sheriff and Fire Departments are also required at times to assist in providing the necessary medical care.

In order for this service to remain strong and capable of providing the best in emergency care, we are continually looking for more people to become involved and take the necessary certification classes required. If you or anyone you know would like to get involved in this very important service, please contact our EMS office to discover how you can help.

The EMS is having an informational meeting on August 12, at the EMS building here in Hoxie to talk with anyone who would like to help with this service.

Thanks for reading and God bless!

USMCA Fuels America's Innovation Economy

By Erik Paulsen, Former Congressman and Honorary Co-Chairman of the Pass USMCA Coalition

The new North American trade agreement, called the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement, is a much-needed modernization of NAFTA, which was signed more than 25 years ago.

USMCA will catalyze growth across the economy, especially in sectors that rely on strong intellectual property protections. America's creators and innovators depend on lawmakers' quick approval of USMCA as negotiated by its three signatory nations.

Innovation is the heart of the U.S. economy. Today, America's IP is worth an astonishing $6.6 trillion and accounts for more than half of all U.S. merchandise exports. These vital industries -- from tech, to manufacturing, and even agriculture -- support more than 40 percent of U.S. economic growth.

When NAFTA was drafted in the early 1990s, the internet was in its infancy. To most Americans, WiFi, smartphones, and high-speed internet weren't even imaginable.

USMCA modernizes NAFTA to account for several decades of innovation and establishes a fair framework for American inventors.

For starters, it requires Mexico and Canada to extend their copyright protections to match America's. This change is crucial to the health of the arts.

The recording industry adds nearly $10 billion a year to the economy. And our movie and television industries are the envy of the world, generating $134 billion in sales in 2016 and supporting two million jobs.

Inadequate copyright protections in Mexico and Canada deprive American artists of well-deserved earnings: local companies are allowed to prematurely create knock-off products and steal sales. This abuse leads to lost revenues, lost jobs, and a hobbled economy here at home.

USMCA also cracks down on piracy. The Chamber of Commerce estimates that piracy costs Hollywood $71 billion every year. USMCA beefs up border security, empowering agents to more effectively identify counterfeit and pirated goods. This will ensure that American innovators can reap the full benefits of their labor.

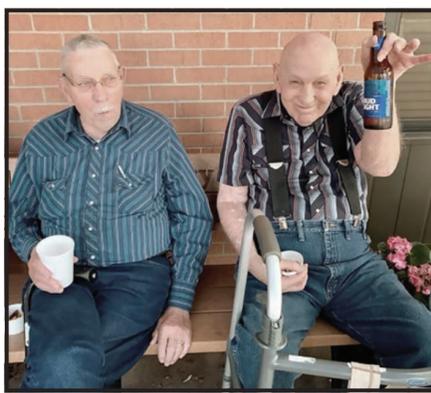

USMCA will power decades of American prosperity. Mexico has already ratified it. And Canada has indicated it's waiting for America to move next.

The next step is clear. Congress must ratify USMCA. This deal protects the innovation at the heart of the American economy.

Erik Paulsen represented Minnesota in the U.S. House of Representatives from 2009 to 2019. He served on the House Committee on Ways and Means and Subcommittee on Trade during his time in Congress. He currently serves as honorary co-chairman of the Pass USMCA Coalition.

On Wednesday morning, July 31, Midwest Energy crews were called to the Hwy 23 - 24 junction to repair a high-line pole that was hit by an oversized load. It took most of the day to replace the pole. The SC Sheriff's Department was called for traffic control. (SCSD photos)

Long Term Care Summer Activities Keep Residents Busy!

The SCHC residents had a busy week of FUN!! On Wednesday, July 31, the residents enjoyed a Fishing, Peanuts & Beer Social. The great outdoors does the soul some good! (SCHC Activities photos)

The residents from SCHC took a trip to Nicodemus on Monday, August 5. They enjoyed the afternoon learning many new facts about Nicodemus (1877-), which was the first black community west of the Mississippi River and is the only predominantly black community west of the Mississippi that remains a living community today. ## Hoxie Medical Clinic Director Attends Proclamation Signing

Hoxie Medical Clinic Renovation Phase 3 Underway

The Hoxie Medical Clinic remodel is currently in phase 3 of the construction process. The anticipated completion date is scheduled for September 30, 2019. SCHC is planning to have a grand opening and ribbon cutting sometime shortly after everything is complete, we would love for the public to come out and look at all the changes we've made at that time. We very much appreciate everyone's cooperation and patience as we continue to make these modifications and improvements to our facility. The project is being funded by a grant we received from HRSA in the amount of $135,000 to add additional exam rooms and provider offices to our existing space. (SCHC photo)

Prairie Doc® Perspectives: What do you say?

By Richard P. Holm, MD

Before my junior year in high school, I returned from a Boy Scout canoeing trip to discover my sister had been killed in a car crash. I will never forget the sadness of the moment when I walked into the house that was filled with what seemed like half the caring and wonderful town of De Smet to find my mom and dad there grieving. It was near the end of that summer, but the beginning of a long period of mourning for my family and me.

There were lessons that came to me after my sister's death. I realized how important support from a community could be. Consolation came from our friends, neighbors, church community, as well as people we barely knew. It seemed more about their presence and not their words. I noticed there were people who had trouble themselves dealing with such loss, and they sort of disappeared.

Also, I realized that a funeral is not exactly a time of closure for a family, but really just the beginning of a time to accept reality and forge ahead with the difficult changes that life can and does deal out. It took me years to think about my sister and relish in her memory rather than cringe from the pain of the loss. In that sense, I know I will never have closure and that's good.

Some 14 years after her death, while I was on the faculty of a medical school in Georgia, I found myself having to advise medical students how to talk to patients or family about sad news. I reviewed the medical literature on the subject at the time and concluded that there is no right way to do it except to be 100 percent honest and to say whatever is needed with compassion.

Through the years those guidelines have sustained me while I have had the burden of sharing awful news.

Bottom line, it is being there, more than words that consoles. Never worry about what to say, just show up, be honest, and care.

Preacher's Point By Pastor Timothy Johnson

God and Global Warming

Is the world getting warmer? Does anyone care? Well, for the second question, laws have been passed, and treaties are signed, in an attempt to stop global warming; so, the answer must be that there are concerned people out there. Predictions are rolling in that the earth as we now know it will completely change in climate, not twelve generations from now, but in only twelve years. Yes, some people are incredibly concerned.

Jesus acknowledged that man could accurately forecast the weather (Matthew 16:2-3; Luke 12:54-55). In terms of accuracy, in Jesus' day, everything was done with visual observation, there were no radar, satellites, or all the equipment available today. Despite all of today's technology, I have still shoveled six inches of "partly cloudy" off my porch.

Whenever there is a problem of any type, the best solution is to deal with the source. Example - if you have wasps flying around your yard, spray the nest with wasp killer.

When it comes to global warming, it is difficult to attack the source. First, of all, the argument on whether global warming exists has not been settled. Second, what is the cause? Is it humankind? Is it our way of life? Is it nature going through regular cycles of climate and we are now on the upswing in temperature?

This brings me to Job. If you are unfamiliar with Job, here is a quick summary of his Biblical story. Job was a righteous man. Satan claimed Job had been blessed so much by God, that if God took away His blessings, Job would turn around and curse God instead of praising Him. God allowed Satan, in two separate attacks on Job, to take everything Job had except for his life. Job, one of the richest men of the world at the time, lost everything he owned, all ten of his children died. Then Job lost his health; he had boils from the top of his head to the bottom of his feet.

Most of the book of Job is a conversation Job has with his friends about his situation. However, starting in chapter 38, God addresses the members of the group individually. What God tells Job may give us a clue on how we should address global warming.

Many believe that global warming will melt the polar ice caps and cause widespread flooding throughout the earth. God addressed the boundaries of the oceans with Job, "Or who shut up the sea with doors, when it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the womb? ... And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further: and here shall thy proud waves be stayed?" (Job 38:8,11).

God sets the boundaries of the sea. The boundaries of the sea change all the time. The tide is a perfect example, sometimes it is in, sometimes it is out. Local flooding is another example of the water moving within and without its normal borders. What God is telling Job, is wherever the sea and the rivers are, I (God) have put them there. I control if there is a tsunami or a flood, or if a lake or river goes dry. Job, there is nothing you can do, I determine where the water goes.

The fact that God holds the sea in His hands is a fact Job told his friend Bildad earlier in the conversation (Job 26:10). Job emphasized it so much he said God containing the seas would last as long as the sun came up and went down every day.

Moving beyond Job and his friends, the Bible tells us one of the last plagues shortly before Christ's return is immense heat, Revelation 16:9, "And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory."

Some may claim that this is proof that global warming is creeping up on us and will hit full strength shortly before the Second Coming. However, since the other twenty plagues in Revelation are short, onetime events, it does not reason that this future judgement is something man has been doing to himself all along.

Take time to read Job 38. God explains that He controls the sea, wind, rain, snow, frost, and the dew. God mentions by name, the constellations of Pleiades and Orion and how He controls where they are in the sky.

God is making it very clear; He controls nature.

Conclusion - Man cannot cause global warming unless God allows it. Whatever happens with the climate, or tomorrow's weather forecast, God will determine all that. We do not control nature; God does.

MENTAL HEALTH

Impact Night

Sheridan County Swimming Pool Park

6 p.m. Hotdog BBQ with outdoor activities for all ages

7-9 p.m. Free swim at Sheridan County Swimming Pool

On August 7th, in conjunction with National Health Center Week, we want to recognize the impact mental illness has had on our community. We encourage anyone who has struggled with mental illness or knows someone who has, to come out and assist us in creating a pinwheel garden to honor those individuals touched by this growing struggle and to break down the stigma. There will be brief discussions held by community members who are willing to share their stories as well as information shared by local social workers. This will be a kick-off to 3 other events held throughout the year to keep communication open and to provide education about this topic.

News from the Outside

with John Liester

It's hot outside. Almost too hot for this guy. But life just keeps me out there. I tried twice to go fishing this weekend but no dice. Friday, I got busy with yard work and the next thing I knew it was getting dark, and we still hadn't eaten yet. Yesterday I was going to go. I even started supper at 4 PM. I figured using the Instapot would speed things up. I really need to quit thinking. Got done with supper at 8:15. By then I was worn out.

I did hear that they are catching crappie at most lakes. Fish are being found around deep water brush piles at twenty to thirty feet deep. Jigs, small slab spoons, minnows are working. I would start with white and then yellow. I use slab spoons a lot. They cast a mile and sink quickly. But you can also retrieve them across the top. Having white bass or wipers hit them is just awesome.

Dove season is coming fast, as is muzzle loader deer season. Years back I switched to an inline rifle. Made a few amazing shots with it. But something was wrong. It didn't feel right. This season I step way back and am using a fifty-four caliber Hawken rifle. No scope, no fancy bullets. Just powder and round balls. I am excited for this season!

We went to a new church for us. We were welcomed with open arms. Very friendly and accepting. Thank you very much!

Not much else to report for now. Hopefully, next time I'll have a first-hand report to give. Until then stay safe and enjoy the outside.

John Martin is back from Russell county where he has been at work on a cattle ranch.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Galliger, of Saline township on Wednesday, Aug. 1st, a boy.

Make a note in your pocket memorandum so that you won't forget that Hon. J. R. Burton is to speak in Hoxie, on the evening of August 20.

Dance at the Opera Hall on the night of the 17.

Kerfoot is the name of an insane man in Osborne County.

M. R. Vandiver and Son were in our city on business Monday.

John Woltzen sports a bicycle and is having quite a time breaking it to ride.

Hon. J. A. Troutman will speak in Opera House tonight. Don't fail to hear him.

Debs and Coxey alike have had their day. Who will be the next republican vote maker?

Sheridan county alliance will hold a two days picnic at the grove near McGraw the 27 and 28 of August.

Ed Jones and Jesse Rosencranz are back from Greeley, Colorado, where they have been at work the past three months. They report a profitable trip.

Bow Creek township was well represented in our city Monday. There seemed to be some misunderstanding in regard to their road tax levy.

The Equal Suffrage Club will give an entertainment on Monday evening August 13. The program will consist of music, recitations, essays and tableaux. Admission 10 cents. Everybody come and hear the fun.

We are authorized to state that the democrats of Sheridan County will hold their county convention on August 25th and that they will have a good speaker for the occasion. The chances are that they will put out a straight ticket and stay by it.

The great temperance drama entitled "The Turn of the Tide" will be presented in the Hoxie Opera House, on Monday evening August 20th, by the members of the Hoxie Cornet Band. This is one of the most instructive and entertaining dramas obtainable and you will miss it if you fail to attend.

Uncle Jimmy Grinnell has cut his alfalfa crop the third time this year and expects to cut the fourth crop yet. Each cutting so far has averaged two tons to the acre, which give him this dry year eight tons of the best of hay, part of which he has sold for $7.50 per ton, amounting in all to $60.00 per acre. We will say that the harvesting cost him $20.00, which would no doubt, over estimate the cost, but that would leave him $40.00 for the use of his ground one year. Is there an acre of land in the county that can beat this?

Skelton News

Little Tom Pratt is home once more.

Mr. C. E. Miller is on the sick list this week.

Fred Turtle left for Hoxie Monday evening where he will attend Normal.

Mr. James Kirk entertained quite a number of friends Sunday afternoon. A good time was had by all.

FHSU Shows Commitment to Youth Education

By Randy Gonzales, University Relations and Marketing

It began as a training ground at Fort Hays State University for young western Kansas band students back in the 1940s, and it's still going strong as one of the state's music education leaders.

The High Plains Music Camp now also offers a week of summer instruction for middle school and high school orchestra and vocal students. It serves as a recruiting tool for the university as well.

Dr. Ivalah Allen, associate professor of music at FHSU and the camp's director, estimated as many as half of the students in attendance enroll at FHSU in a variety of majors.

Luis Valencia, a Fort Hays State sophomore-to-be from Leoti, is majoring in music education and vocal performance. He attended two High Plains camps while in high school and served as a counselor this year. Attending the camps factored into his decision to choose FHSU.

"I'm really happy I chose Fort Hays State," he said. "I feel like all the faculty are basically family to me, and they are mentors to me. It just feels right being here."

A lot of other students feel the same way. Each summer, several students complete seven years at the camp.

This year, about 220 participants learned from 21 counselors, many of them former students at the camp. For those in orchestra and band, students range from sixth grade to current high school graduates. Vocal students can begin attending the camp the summer before entering high school.

Even as the 72nd annual event was winding down in mid-July, Allen was busy preparing for next year's event as well as the big 75th annual camp down the road. She wants to welcome back former students and camp instructors for the event's diamond anniversary.

The camp was founded in 1947 by former Fort Hays State band director Harold G. Palmer because there was no outlet for youth musicians to learn during the summer. At first it was solely a band camp, and orchestra and vocal students were added over the years.

Students from all across Kansas and neighboring states converge on the FHSU campus for instruction and to give performances in all three areas of concentration. Several of the instrumental and vocal instructors brought in each year are FHSU graduates. Allen said she knows of no other camp like it.

"It's not just how they individually grow," Allen said. "They take this back to their schools with the knowledge that they have gained. It's an amazing opportunity."

A limited number of scholarships are available, focused on both ability and need. Allen said she just hopes to break even financially each year.

"This is strictly for us to train young musicians," she said, "not for us to make money as a department."

The day gets underway with a 5K Run/2 Mile Fun Walk. Registration and t-shirt pickup begin at 7:00 a.m. at the corner of Douglas and Main. The 5K run starts at 8:00 a.m. with the 2 mile walk to follow at 8:15 a.m. All registration fees are donated to Phillips County Hospice Services.

46th Annual Hansen Arts & Crafts Fair

If you enjoy arts and crafts, come spend a fun Saturday in Logan: a farming community nestled in northwest Kansas, on Highway 9. Logan is home to the Dane G. Hansen Museum who sponsors one of the best arts and crafts fairs in Kansas. Saturday, August 17, 2019, over fifty artists and crafters from Kansas and surrounding states will turn the Hansen Plaza into a shopper's paradise. Family and friends rally together on Main Street in Logan, Kansas for this annual event. There is no admission charge.

Crafters check in before dawn in preparation for the fair's 9:00 a.m. opening. Food vendors soon begin filling the air with tantalizing smells as they begin preparing delicious offerings such as hamburgers, bratwurst, chicken & noodles, pies, pulled pork sandwiches, scones, kettle corn, and more. If you start the day hungry, you won't be for long.

After strolling around the Plaza, please step inside the museum and meander around the gallery. Our exhibit, "A Life In The Wild," contains forty of world renown wildlife and nature photographer Thomas D. Mangelsen's most prized photographs. While you are in the gallery, don't forget to check out B Duh Junk's amazing pressed tin art for sale in our Artist of the Month area.

Amble over to the Community Room where you can check out antique appraising, quilting demonstrations, and membership sales. From 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., antique appraiser Bob Jones will be available to give a free verbal approximation of value on two of your antiques. At 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. watch Janie Lowry's Festive Table Topper demonstration. Please stop by the membership table to purchase or renew your Dane G. Hansen Museum membership. Purchasing a membership during the Arts & Crafts Fair automatically enters you in the Hansen Bucks drawings. $500.00 dollars worth of Hansen Bucks will be given away in drawings held at 10:45 a.m. and 1:45 p.m. Remember to stick around because you must be present to win and spend these bucks!

Artisans presenting their skills around the Plaza Square throughout the day include: fast draw shooting by the Deer Creek Regulators; "Fleece to Fabric" by Area Weavers & Spinners and The Shepherd's Mill; black smith techniques with Brian Bethke; oil painting by National Oil Painters of America Signature Member, David Vollbracht; Joy of Painting instructors T.R. Matthews and Sandra Seamone; and wheel throwing techniques on the potter's wheel with Chris Goedert.

Hansen Foundation Welcomes New Member

The Dane G. Hansen Foundation is pleased to welcome Warren H. Gfeller as the newest member of the Board of Trustees, effective immediately.

Gfeller has strong ties to Northwest Kansas. He was born in Oakley and spent his early childhood on a farm near Winona. He later moved to Russell, where he attended school and graduated from Russell High School. He earned his accounting degree at Kansas State University.

Following college, he worked for four years for Arthur Young & Company in Wichita, specializing in oil & gas accounting and taxation.

In 1978, he became the CFO of a small publicly-held oil and gas exploration and production company in Dallas, and then held a similar position at Ferrell Companies, Inc., a Kansas City based company involved in oil and gas, real estate, banking, manufacturing, financial services and propane distribution. He became President and CEO of Ferrellgas, Inc. in 1985.

Gfeller never lost his attachment to Northwest Kansas. He still has family in Russell. In 1992, he purchased a ranch northwest of Russell and began spending quite a bit of time there. In 2013, he and his wife, Angela moved to the ranch permanently.

After leaving Ferrellgas in 1991, Gfeller worked in the investment field and also served on a number of boards including many public, private and foundation boards across several different industries. He says his personal criteria for service has always been "whether I thought I had something to offer, whether the mission was one I could support and whether I could commit the time needed to do the necessary work."

"I appreciate my rural roots and I believe sustaining our rural heritage is vital to our communities. I support 100% the mission and guiding principles of the Hansen Foundation," Gfeller said.

"I have seen the value of the grants, scholarships and initiatives of the Foundation's work."

Gfeller's appointment follows the death of former Trustee, Gary Poore, who served the Foundation for 13 years.

He joins current board members, Doug Albin, Wakeeney; Carol Bales, Logan; Doyle Fair, Wichita; Robert Hartman, Hays; Cy Moyer, Phillipsburg; and Brien Stockman, Logan.

The Dane G. Hansen Foundation was established in 1965 with an estate gift from Dane G. Hansen. Based in Mr. Hansen's hometown of Logan, the Foundation has been providing scholarships and grants to support growth and prosperity to the residents of Northwest Kansas for 54 years. The Foundation has a primary service area that includes the 26 most northwest counties in the state.

Adult Education Classes Begin This Month

Beginning August 26, Colby Community College Adult Education will be offering classes in Colby and Hays to help students prepare for attaining the Kansas High School Diploma (GED). The credential is affiliated with the Kansas Board of Regents and recognized by colleges and employers nationwide.

In Colby, the class will be held in the lower level of the H.F. Davis Library on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The class in Hays is scheduled on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 to 10 p.m. in the lower level of the Community Corrections of Northwest Kansas building, 1011 Fort St. Adults over the age of 16 not currently enrolled in school are eligible. Learners who have been associated with credit recovery programs or learning centers are welcome. Classes are also suitable for those who want to refresh their skills and enhance job placement or transition into college or technical school.

For more information, contact Nance Munderloh at (785) 460-4663.

2019 Kansas Honeybee Colonies

Data collection for July 2019 quarterly honeybee colonies has been suspended. Before deciding to suspend data collection, NASS reviewed its estimating programs against mission and user-based criteria as well as the amount of time remaining in the fiscal year to meet its budget and program requirements while maintaining the strongest data in service to U.S. agriculture. Information about all NASS surveys and reports is available online at www.nass.usda.gov.

Honeybee colonies for operations with five or more colonies, in Kansas as of January 1, 2019 totaled 4,500 according to the USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service. During 2018, honeybee colonies on January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1 were 3,700, 3,900, 6,000, and 5,500, respectively.

Honeybee colonies lost for operations with five or more colonies, during the quarter of January-March 2019, was 1,500 colonies or 33 percent lost. The quarter of October-December 2018, at 1,000 or 18 percent, showed the highest number of lost honeybee colonies of any quarter during 2018. The quarter of April-June 2018 had a loss of 300 colonies or 8 percent, the lowest number of honeybee colonies lost in 2018.

Honeybee colonies added for operations with five or more colonies, during the quarter of January-March 2019, was 370 colonies. The quarter of April-June 2018 added 3,500 colonies the highest number of honeybee colonies added for all quarters during 2018. The quarter of July-September 2018, at 300 added, showed the lowest number of honeybee colonies added in 2018.

Honeybee colonies renovated for operations with five or more colonies, during the quarter of January-March 2019, was 110 colonies. During April-June 2018, 2,100 colonies were renovated, the highest number of colonies renovated during 2018. The lowest number of honeybee colonies renovated for any quarter in 2018, at 10, occurred during October-December 2018. Renovated colonies are those that were requeened or received new honeybees through a nuc or package.

Varroa mites were the number one stressor for operations with five or more colonies during all four quarters in 2018. The quarter of July-September 2018 showed the highest percentage of varroa mites in 2018, at 76.8 percent. The percent of colonies reported to be affected by varroa mites during January-March 2019, were 102 percent.

2018 Farm Production Expenditures Down 7 Percent

Farm and ranch production expenditures for Kansas totaled $17.3 billion in 2018, down 7 percent from a year earlier, according to USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service. Livestock expenses, the largest expenditure category, at $6.38 billion, decreased 3 percent from 2017. Feed, the next largest expense category, at $2.30 billion, decreased 12 percent from 2017. Rent, the third largest total expense category at $1.32 billion, decreased 3 percent from 2017.

Livestock expenses accounted for 37 percent of Kansas's total production expenditures. Feed accounted for 13, rent 8, and farm services 8 percent. The total expenditures per farm or ranch in Kansas

Crop Update

By July 28, thirty-three percent of the nation's sorghum acreage had reached the heading stage, 19 percentage points behind last year and 17 percentage points behind the five-year average. Seventy-nine percent of Texas' sorghum acreage had reached the heading stage by July 28, identical to last year but four percentage points behind the five-year average. Twenty-one percent of nation's sorghum acreage was at or beyond the coloring stage by July 28, four percentage points behind both last year and the five-year average. Coloring advanced 17 percentage points in Texas during the week. On July 28, seventy-one percent of the nation's sorghum acreage was rated in good to excellent condition, two percentage points below the previous week but 19 percentage points above the same time last year.

Kansas Crop Progress and Condition

For the week ending August 4, 2019, there were 5.9 days suitable for fieldwork, according to the USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service.

Topsoil moisture supplies rated 9 percent very short, 31 short, 56 adequate, and 4 surplus. Subsoil moisture supplies rated 4 percent very short, 22 short, 70 adequate, and 4 surplus.

Field Crops Report: Corn condition rated 3 percent very poor, 10 poor, 33 fair, 46 good, and 8 excellent. Corn silking was 85 percent, behind 95 last year and 93 for the five-year average. Dough was 39 percent, well behind 63 last year, and behind 50 average. Dented was 9 percent, behind 21 last year, and equal to average.

Soybean condition rated 3 percent very poor, 7 poor, 41 fair, 44 good, and 5 excellent. Soybeans blooming was 56 percent, well behind 88 last year and 77 average. Setting pods was 22 percent, well behind 61 last year and 43 average.

Sorghum condition rated 1 percent very poor, 5 poor, 27 fair, 58 good, and 9 excellent. Sorghum headed was 26 percent, well behind 55 last year, and behind 44 average. Coloring was 3 percent, near 6 last year, and equal to average.

Cotton condition rated 9 percent very poor, 20 poor, 37 fair, 31 good, and 3 excellent. Cotton squaring was 78 percent, behind 95 last year, but near 75 average. Setting bolls was 26 percent, behind 32 last year, and equal to average.

Pasture and Range Report: Pasture and range conditions rated 1 percent very poor, 5 poor, 24 fair, 61 good, and 9 excellent. averaged $293,039 in 2018, down 8 percent from 2017. The Livestock expense category was the leading expenditure, at $108,319 per operation, 4.73 times the national average. Feed expenditures, at $39,049 per operation, were $12,427 above the national average. Fertilizer and soil conditioners, at $16,469, were $4,989 above the national average. The average rent expenditure, at $22,411, was $8,160 above the national average.

These results are based on data from Kansas farmers and ranchers who participated in the Agricultural Resource Management Study conducted by USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service. Producers were contacted in January through April to collect 2018 farm and ranch expenses.

Environmental Factors on Corn Yield

Much of the corn is entering reproductive stages in this area. One of the main challenges presented a few weeks ago was the high temperatures, particularly the total number of hours with air temperature above 95 degrees F. High nighttime temperatures during the reproductive period (at or after flowering) can reduce kernel number, and if later in the season, kernel weight. This effect can be explained as an increase in the rate of respiration, increasing the demand for sugar (energy) and diminishing its availability for supplying the growing kernels. In addition, as experienced in many areas of Kansas, high nighttime temperatures tend to accelerate plant growth, but with overall lower plant efficiency in using available resources. The effect of high nighttime temperatures will be exacerbated as corn is entering into the most critical growth period (a few days before flowering to grain filling). The consequence of high night temperatures will be reflected in reductions in kernel number (if timing of the stress was around flowering) and/or kernel weight (if timing of stress coincided with the grain filling period). After a week of warmer and drier-than-normal conditions, the last few days have averaged much cooler than normal. These cooler temperatures would be especially favorable for any corn that is in the pollination/silking stage. Lower temperatures (in the 50s) are less favorable for the warm-season crops, such as sorghum, as these temperatures would further delay crop development. Temperatures are expected to warm back to seasonal levels progress to warmer-than-normal conditions into the first week in August.

Soil moisture is another factor that can potentially impact corn in the next week(s) since corn is approaching the peak of water demand when it reaches flowering stage. Unfortunately, the precipitation outlook favors a continuation of the drier-than-normal pattern through the same period. Combined with the drying soils, stress is most likely in the central part of the state. Warm temperatures, little precipitation, shallow rooting, and dry surface soils will combine to form an unfavorable environment for corn and soybeans in the critical reproductive stages.

In summary, temperature will be a less relevant factor for negatively impacting corn yields and pollination time. However, quickly drying of soils, combined with the less positive precipitation forecast for the next 8-14 days, will impose potential drought stress conditions around flowering and during the beginning of the grain filling period. The effect of a "timing drought" during these development stages in corn could be reflected in reductions in kernel number and/or final kernel weight.

Secretary Perdue Statement on U.S. and E.U. Beef Agreement

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue issued the following statement after an agreement was signed between the United States and the European Union regarding beef trade between the two nations: "Getting more US beef into the EU market is yet another example of President Trump expanding markets around the globe for our agriculture producers. EU consumers desire high quality products, and I have no doubt that when given the opportunity to purchase U.S. products we will see more Europeans choose to buy American. America's farmers and ranchers are the most productive on earth and I thank President Trump and Ambassador Lighthizer for their continued work to promote the bounty of the American harvest across the world."

USDA Opens Signup for Market Facilitation Program

Signup opens today for the Market Facilitation Program (MFP), a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) program to assist farmers who continue to suffer from damages because of unjustified trade retaliation from foreign nations. Through MFP, USDA will provide up to $14.5 billion in direct payments to impacted producers, part of a broader trade relief package announced in late July. The sign-up period runs through Dec. 6.

"Our team at USDA reflected on what worked well and gathered feedback on last year's program to make this one even stronger and more effective for farmers. Our farmers work hard, are the most productive in the world, and we aim to match their enthusiasm and patriotism as we support them," said Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue.

MFP payments will be made to producers of certain non-specialty and specialty crops as well as dairy and hog producers.

Non-Specialty Crops
MFP payments will be made to producers of alfalfa hay, barley, canola, corn, crambe, dried beans, dry peas, extra-long staple cotton, flaxseed, lentils, long grain and medium grain rice, millet, mustard seed, oats, peanuts, rapeseed, rye, safflower, sesame seed, small and large chickpeas, sorghum, soybeans, sunflower seed, temperate japonica rice, triticale, upland cotton, and wheat.

MFP assistance for 2019 crops is based on a single county payment rate multiplied by a farm's total plantings to the MFP-eligible crops in aggregate in 2019. Those per acre payments are not dependent on which of those crops are planted in 2019. A producer's total payment-eligible plantings cannot exceed total 2018 plantings.

Dairy and Hogs
Dairy producers who were in business as of June 1, 2019, will receive a per hundredweight payment on production history, and hog producers will receive a payment based on the number of live hogs owned on a day selected by the producer between April 1 and May 15, 2019.

Specialty Crops
MFP payments will also be made to producers of almonds, cranberries, cultivated ginseng, fresh grapes, fresh sweet cherries, hazelnuts, macadamia nuts, pecans, pistachios, and walnuts. Each specialty crop will receive a payment based on 2019 acres of fruit or nut bearing plants, or in the case of ginseng, based on harvested acres in 2019.

More Information
Payments will be made in up to three tranches, with the second and third tranches evaluated as market conditions and trade opportunities dictate. If conditions warrant, the second and third tranches will be made in November and early January.

MFP payments are limited to a combined $250,000 for non-specialty crops per person or legal entity. MFP payments are also limited to a combined $250,000 for dairy and hog producers and a combined $250,000 for specialty crop producers. However, no applicant can receive more than $500,000. Eligible applicants must also have an average adjusted gross income (AGI) for tax years 2015, 2016, and 2017 of less than $900,000, or 75 percent of the person's or legal entity's average AGI for those tax years must have been derived from farming and ranching. Applicants must also comply with the provisions of the Highly Erodible Land and Wetland Conservation regulations. More information can be found on farmers.gov/mfp, including payment information and a program application.

Senate Passes Bipartisan Budget Agreement

Earlier today, the Senate voted 67-28 to pass H.R. 3877, Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019. The agreement sets top-line discretionary spending caps for FY 2020 and 2021. The bill established a $1.37 trillion budget agreement for FY20, with Defense spending set at a total of $738 billion and Non-Defense set at $632 billion. Funding levels then increase for FY21 to $740.5 for Defense spending and $634.5 billion for Non-defense. The agreement suspends the debt ceiling through July 2021 to avoid the risk of a federal default on payments. The budget agreement also removes the threat of sequester to the mandatory funding, which supports USDA programs. The bill now heads to the White House for approval. President Trump's signature will allow the Senate to finally begin their delayed appropriations process.

China Trade Update

United States Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer, Secretary of the Treasury Steven Mnuchin and other members of the U.S. negotiating team traveled to Shanghai, China, to discuss the United States-China trade relationship on Tuesday and Wednesday this week. Topics discussed included forced technology transfer, intellectual property rights, services, non-tariff barriers and agriculture. Vice Premier Liu He and other members of the Chinese negotiating team confirmed their commitment to increased agricultural purchases. The Administration reported the meetings were constructive, but negotiations on an enforceable trade deal are not expected to begin until September. President Trump stated Thursday the U.S. will issue approximately $300 billion worth of additional tariffs on all remaining untaxed goods if agreements are not met by September 1.

A WORD BRIDGE! The bridge above contains 10 supporting words. We give you the first letter of each word, plus plenty of hints.

- To perform.
- A large supporting timber.
- A mound of stones; a marker.
- Head of college.
- Main item in a soufflé.
- (Scottish) Having visionary powers.
- This happens when goods exceed demand.
- A large aquatic African animal.
- A small island.
- A triangular sail.

TARGET PRACTICE TIME!

What four-letter word do these arrows spell out?

Answer: From left to right, they are pointing to the four cardinal points of the compass: (N) North, (E) East, (W) West and (S) South, thus spelling the word NEWS.

CHAIN REACTION!

Take the seven letters printed below our diagram and place them in the circles so that eight four-letter words can be read, top to bottom, along the connecting lines. All the words will begin with the letter in the top circle.
