TWO-YEAR PROJECT: SELDEN MURAL FINALLY HERE!!

Selden Mural Takes Shape

Some Girls and a Mural were able to begin painting a mural in Selden on Monday, May 18. The Sheridan County Beautification Committee has been working on this project for about two and a half years, which was finally wrapped up on Saturday, May 23.

The Sheridan County Beautification Committee was born out of a Strategic Doing meeting through the Sheridan County Community Foundation. While the committee has several ideas for other projects, they decided that a mural would have the biggest impact.

After several brainstorming sessions, the Committee decided to begin a mural in Selden. After a couple of meetings with the City Council and a community meeting, a muralist and design were chosen. Then began the difficult part of finding all of the funding. Through the generosity of grants from the Sheridan County Community Foundation, Dane G. Hansen Foundation, Midwest Energy, and Nex-Tech, the muralists were finally scheduled.

The City of Selden also assisted in preparing the building. First, the trees had to be removed, as well as a high line pole directly in front of the building needed to be moved.

Leroy Spreser, of Spreser Excavation, was able to complete that part of the project. Once the trees were removed, it revealed extensive damage to the roof. Bernie Koerperich, of BK Construction, replaced a portion of the roof and fascia. Gutters were installed to prevent water damage to the mural and lighting was added to the soffit so the mural would be visible at night. He was able to get that done quickly and came back last minute to make some changes!

Bradley Tim blocked in the windows and Dusty Spreser did some much needed dirt work to level the ground. Then the building had to be power washed. Michael and Ashton Schiltz volunteered their time for an entire day to get that done! Lastly, Nate Schaben came up very last minute and moved the Internet wiring and box so there was a clean slate for painting!

"We can't thank everyone enough for all of your time and effort to making this project happen!" commented City Councilperson Danielle Schiltz. The Sheridan County Beautification Committee spent countless hours writing grants and searching for funding opportunities for this project. The Sheridan County Community Foundation grant was the biggest contributor to making this happen. "Over the years, they have supported so many projects in Selden, and we hope everyone keeps that in mind during their annual Match Month this November. The work they do to improve our community is only possible because of the generosity of donors," continued Schiltz.

This project was also fortunate to receive support from the Dane G. Hansen Foundation, which continues to generously invest in projects that benefit Selden and rural communities. Additional grants came from Midwest Energy and Nex-Tech, and the community and the committee are incredibly thankful for their support as well.

Even with all of these grants, there was still a funding gap — and that's when the Selden community stepped up in a huge way. Local businesses and community members donated over $10,000 to help bring this project to life.

"This mural project truly became a community effort, and we have been overwhelmed by the incredible support from so many businesses, organizations, families, and individuals who wanted to see this vision come to life in Selden. Every donation — big or small — helped make this project possible, and we are deeply grateful for each and every contribution," stated Schiltz.

A special thank you to Gerald Kaus for generously providing housing for the artist during their stay in Selden. They absolutely loved staying in his beautiful Victorian home! The property is also available as a short-term rental in Selden.

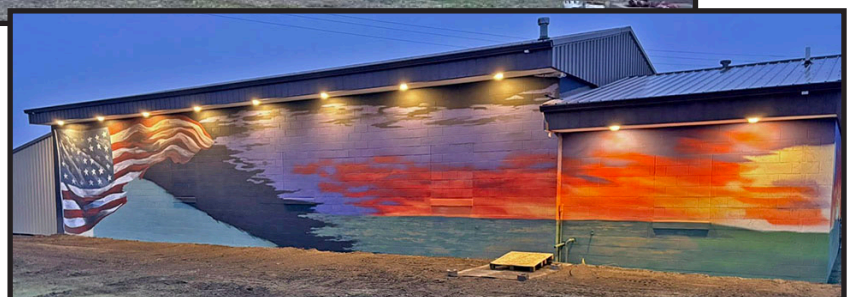

Thank you to Kevin Brown of Sappa Valley Construction for donating the use of his scissor lift, which was a tremendous help throughout the project.

Thank you to the following organizations, businesses, families, and individuals for your generosity and support:

The generous donation from the Doug Shaw Family helped complete our fundraising efforts and officially set this project into motion. Selden Senior Citizens, Selden Community Foundation, Selden Events Committee, Selden Lumber, Spreser

Annual Flag Placing at Local Cemeteries

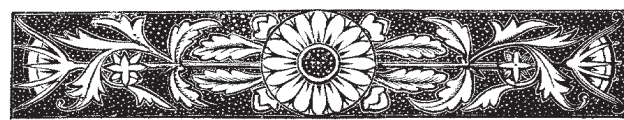

Hoxie Scouting America Pack 160, Troop 160, and American Legion Post 221 placed flags on the graves of veterans in the two Hoxie cemeteries. Thank you to those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our country.

The Scouts did their best to find all of the marked graves. If we missed your loved one, there are extra flags in the kiosk at the City cemetery. (Troop 160 photo)

Highway 24 Garage Sales Return June 5-7

By Karl Pratt, Executive Director, Sheridan County Community Foundation

Hoxie - The annual Highway 24 Garage Sales will return June 5-7, 2026, bringing shoppers, travelers, and treasure hunters through communities across Kansas and Colorado, including Hoxie and Sheridan County.

Stretching more than 300 miles along Highway 24 and featuring over 30 participating communities, the event has become one of the region's most anticipated summer weekends. This year, Hoxie will feature 12 registered garage sale locations for shoppers to explore throughout the community and surrounding area.

Visitors are encouraged to stop in Hoxie during the weekend to shop local sales, discover unique treasures, and enjoy the hospitality of Sheridan County. One of the participating sale locations this year, Rocky's Bait & Tackle, is located outside the Hoxie city limits near the Sheridan Lake entrance.

Shoppers are also encouraged to scan the QR codes available on promotional materials and maps to access both the Hoxie-specific garage sale map and the complete Highway 24 Garage Sales route map for all participating communities.

"The Highway 24 Garage Sales continue to bring excitement and visitors to our community each year," organizers said. "It's a wonderful opportunity to support local communities, meet travelers from across the region, and enjoy a fun summer tradition."

The Sheridan County Community Foundation and Sheridan County Economic Development are serving as local coordinators for the 2026 event.

New Free Online KS Nursing School Guide

Kansas City, KS — Anyone thinking about becoming a nurse in Kansas now has access to a free online tool to help them find the programs in the state that best meet their individual needs.

The online tool, the Kansas Nursing School Guide, was launched today by the Kansas Nursing Workforce Center at the statewide Kansas School Counselor Association spring conference held in Olathe. The tool is designed to help potential students, as well as their parents and school counselors, explore pre-licensure nursing education — bachelor's and associate degree programs and practical nurse programs required to become a registered nurse (RN) or a licensed practical nurse (LPN).

The Kansas Nursing Workforce Center, based at the University of Kansas School of Nursing, was established in 2023 to increase the number of nurses in the state so that every Kansan who needs nursing care has access to it.

"This (tool) provides ease of access to information about nursing education across Kansas," said Barbara MacArthur, M.N., FAAN, director of the Kansas Nursing Workforce Center and clinical assistant professor at KU School of Nursing. "This is about reaching those who are thinking about nursing education, and that may be high school students, or it may be second-career or second-degree students. It's for anybody."

The web tool is part of the Kansas Nursing Pathways Project, funded by the Kansas Board of Regents, and was developed by the Information Technology department at KU Medical Center.

There are more than 40 nursing schools in Kansas. Rather than researching each school individually, potential students can now use the web tool to narrow down their educational options by choosing answers to a series of questions. These questions include the type of degree the potential student desires, their current education level, the preferred length of time to complete a degree, their preferred learning format (e.g., in-person or online-friendly) and in what part of Kansas they would like to study. The tool then produces a list of schools matching these criteria, which includes links to each school's nursing program and contact information for admissions. These results can also be emailed to the user.

In addition to the search function, the web tool contains information on nursing specialties, different degree options, what to consider when choosing a nursing program, Kansas nursing workforce statistics and, of course, information on each nursing education program in the state.

The Kansas Nursing School Guide will also be incorporated into Xello, which is an online program used by K-12 schools throughout Kansas that helps students identify potential careers and educational options, said Amy Curtis, marketing manager at KU School of Nursing. Curtis oversaw the rollout of the web tool.

Sarnecki Announces 5-Year AI Data Center Moratorium Plan

Kansas Gubernatorial Candidate Philip Sarnecki announced on Tuesday, May 26, his plan to pass a 5-year AI data center moratorium. AI data centers are exploiting states across the country for their precious resources: land, water, and energy. After politicians in Topeka passed tax breaks for AI data center projects, these companies are now targeting Kansas.

Sarnecki's plan will stop AI data centers from entering a county without approval from its residents.

"The first job of Governor is to protect the people of Kansas. If a county doesn't want an AI data center, then a company shouldn't be able to build a data center in that county. As Governor, I will stop unwanted AI data centers from coming into our state," stated Sarnecki.

AI Data Center Moratorium Plan:
In order to build a data center, a company must guarantee:

- The development will not increase energy costs for residents in the county.
- The development will not place an undue burden on local water resources.
- Eminent domain will be prohibited for the purpose of the development.

If a company guarantees all of these requirements, then a vote among residents in the county must pass with a majority to approve the construction of the data center.

More Than 2,000 Kansas FFA Members Gather in Manhattan

Manhattan - More than 2,600 FFA members and guests representing more than 185 chapters across the state will gather on the Kansas State University campus in Manhattan this week for the 98th Kansas FFA Convention. The event will officially kick off Wednesday evening and conclude Friday afternoon.

New this year, the opening session will be held in the Morgan Family Arena, home of the K-State women's volleyball team. During the session, award winners will be recognized and the crowd will hear from candidates vying to be part of the 2026-2027 state FFA officer team. To round out the evening, rising Texas country artist Parker Ryan will keep the energy flowing with a performance at The Hat in downtown Aggieville. His music is a blend of traditional country and modern rock influences. This exclusive event is sponsored by Yoder Meats and is only open to Kansas FFA Convention attendees.

"Each year, the convention brings together members, alumni and guests to celebrate another year of hard work and success for Kansas FFA," said Kansas FFA State President Lilly Hulse. "It is always one of the most exciting weeks of the year because students have the opportunity to meet other members from across the state, compete in Leadership Development Events, get recognized for their efforts and have fun! Anyone who has ever attended the Kansas FFA Convention knows there is no feeling quite like it!"

Throughout the remainder of the week, all other general sessions will be held in McCain Auditorium, where members will recognize additional award winners, honor scholarship recipients and hear from featured speakers. Attendees also will have the chance to participate in interactive workshops, hear from each of the outgoing state officers as they give their retiring addresses and enjoy many social events.

Prior to the official start of the convention, FFA members participated in the 26th Annual Kansas FFA Opportunity Fair, presented by the Kansas Bankers Association, leadership events and educational workshops held around campus. For more information about the 2026 Kansas FFA Convention, go to www.ksffa.org/98th-kansas-ffa-convention/.

April 2026 Labor Report

Released: May 22, 2026

Preliminary estimates reported by the Labor Market Information (LMI) division of the Kansas Department of Labor (KDOL) and the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) show a seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 3.9% in April. This is unchanged from 3.9% in March and an increase from 3.8% in April 2025. The labor force participation rate for Kansas decreased to 67.4% in April.

Seasonally adjusted job estimates for Kansas indicate total nonfarm payroll employment increased by 4,300 from March. Total nonfarm includes private sector and government employers. Private sector jobs increased by 4,500 over the month, while government decreased by 200. The largest job gains in the private sector were in construction (+1,600 jobs). The largest decrease was in manufacturing (-1,000 jobs).

Since April 2025 Kansas' seasonally adjusted total nonfarm jobs have decreased by 3,300. This change is due to a decrease of 2,000 private sector jobs and a decrease of 1,300 government jobs.

Technical Note: This release includes nonfarm jobs and labor force estimates for April 2026, which are produced using data from two monthly surveys. Data for nonfarm job estimates is collected through a survey of employers while the main input for labor force estimates is a survey of households. Data collected for this report references the week including April 12.

Annual Revised Data

LMI, in conjunction with BLS, produces monthly job and labor force estimates using a variety of surveys conducted by BLS and the Census Bureau. Each March the previous year's estimates are benchmarked and revised against actual counts from employers' tax reports and other data.

Byways and Backroads

By Greg Doering, Kansas Farm Bureau

Summer starts on Memorial Day, even though the solstice is about a month later. Schools are out, it's warm enough to stay out late and it's the beginning of road trip season. Whether its families packing the station wagon (or modern equivalent) for vacation or an individual making a short journey, now is when the open road beckons.

No doubt these travelers will rack up millions of miles along interstate highways this summer. Sometimes it's not the journey, but the destination that counts. The interstate will get you there faster than any other road, but the time savings comes at a cost.

The interstate system, thanks to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is a marvel of engineering and efficiency. Its effectiveness is its downfall, however, for experiencing the joy of driving.

Long straightaways and gentle grades, coupled with wide lanes, generous shoulders and one-way travel create a sterile and monotonous experience. The monotony of hurling down the road at a constant speed is imprinted on the faces of tired travelers at roadside rest stops.

It's far different from how driving evolved along U.S. Route 66, the so-called Mother Road, which turns 100 this year. Its pavement connected Chicago to Santa Monica, though imaginations and travelers mostly headed west.

Though it still lives on, including the 13-mile stretch in southeast Kansas, Route 66's glory days are long gone. Its legacy lives on as the first corridor of roadside commerce, fueling the growth of motels, restaurants and service stations all catering to cars.

The car culture it created still exists, but it seems to be headed to the same fate as the manual transmission. There are still paths out there that are worthy of drivers who understand driving is as much about the road as it is about the surroundings and the vehicle you're in.

Kansas Tourism has a helpful guide of our state's more traveled byways. Yes, Route 66 is included, as is the stretch of K-177 between Council Grove and Cassoday, which offers some unrivaled Flint Hills vistas. Other Charlie Hook went to Colorado Monday to go to work and he went by way of the Rock Island, because, as he expressed it, "he was no chicken and did not want the company of hens."

Carlie Cantrell made two trips to Selden this week with traveling men who would rather drive in a buggy 18 miles to get a good train to ride on than to travel on our excuse for a railroad, which is busily engaged in the hen business.

At 8:00 a.m. Stithem called the meeting to order.

Those in attendance stood and recited the Pledge of Allegiance. Hirsch reminded the Board that the tax sale was happening on Tuesday, May 26, 2026.

Joe Herskowitz, Road & Bridge Supervisor, came to the table. Herskowitz distributed photos of a downed tree after the storm over the weekend on a bridge. Both sides of the guardrail need replaced on the bridge. Cost is $500 for 50' of rail. Cones have been put up for safety. The Board advised Herskowitz to check with Penco Engineering and Sporer for rails as well.

There was a discussion about the hole in the asphalt on 10W by Hwy 24. It will need to be repacked. Herskowitz will have Jerol DeBoer check Road 10W next time he gets to town.

The Board and Herskowitz discussed the landfill compactor that is for sale on Big Iron. Herskowitz advised the Board that he had been on a video call with an individual for the landfill compactor that is being sold on Big Iron. The bidding ends on Wednesday so he will check in the morning.

Wilkins Truck & Trailer in Goodland came by and looked at the trucks the County wants to trade. Wilkins will give us $25,000 for three of our trucks and the County will purchase two used trucks from them at a total cost of $52,500. Stithem made a motion, seconded by Emigh, to purchase the two trucks, trading in three, at a total cost of $52,500. Carried 3-0. Herskowitz will contact them and let them know our plans.

There was a brief discussion about the condition of the "old highway" west of town. A plan will be made to repair the road.

There was a brief discussion about road signs.

Permission was given to order extra blades for all the mowers. Estimated cost is $6,100.

All the wooden posts from the road signs are free to give away to anyone who wants them.

Homes is coming to do a mold test in the office.

There was a discussion about dispatch and how things were going. Carver feels things are going well and the morale is up.

The Board and Carver discussed the law enforcement building and what the next steps will be. Everyone is hearing questions/comments about the building so there is a need for a city-wide meeting to share information. Mailers and tours will start being planned.

OBITUARY

Jan Pyle

September 4, 1939 ~ May 22, 2026

Janice Lee Sealock Andregg Pyle, 86, passed away in the arms of family on May 22, 2026, in Lawrence, KS. She was born on September 4, 1939, in Sheridan County. She was the 4th child of Vern and Florence Sealock, spending all her childhood, youth and school years in Hoxie. She married Kyle Andregg, her high school sweetheart, in 1957, and they had three children to follow, Debra Lee, Todd Weston, and Kyra Lynn.

They moved from the farm in Hoxie to Colby, where they operated an abstract and title insurance company. Kyle and Jan were both involved in the Kansas Jaycee/Janes program in the late 1960's to early 1970's. In 1974, they moved to Lawrence, where she worked as a bank teller for a short time before being employed by The Banks Company on Mass Street - providing title insurance and abstract work in the real estate market. In the early 1980s, she and Kyle moved to Castle Rock, CO, becoming active in the Mountain Man rendezvous organization, enjoying many campouts and gatherings. She was involved in the Eagles/Elks clown program where they visited nursing homes and participated in many parades. In 1993, Kyle and Jan moved back to Hoxie to help care for her mother. They spent time in Arizona managing an RV Park where they attended to Kyle's aging parents, who then relocated back to Hoxie. After Kyle's death in 2003, she continued to care for his parents and still did abstract and title work in western Kansas.

As Jan was helping to plan her 50th high school reunion in 2007, she and her grade school boyfriend Jon Pyle reconnected and were married later that year. They lived in Hoxie several years before moving to Lawrence, where they enjoyed 19 years together. They were active on various boards of their church both in Hoxie and Lawrence. They summered in Kasilof, AK, where they owned and operated an RV park there for 15 plus years. They enjoyed this time in Alaska greatly, especially having multitudes of family and friends visit the park throughout the years.

Jan was a caring, joyous, and loving person who had a beautiful radiant smile and an always cheerful demeanor. Upbeat positivity and kindness to others were exhibited in every aspect of her life, work, and play. She was an extremely creative and talented artist, painting still life, portraits, as well as scenery, and provided each grandchild and great-grandchildren with yearly Christmas ornaments. A skilled seamstress, she made everything from clothes to curtains and couch cushions. Jan was an avid reader and passed her love of books down to her kids who've shared that passion with their children. She had a green thumb and looked forward to spring planting and in later years enjoyed her flowerpots and many houseplants in her home and on the balcony of their assisted living apartment. Her sassy spirit with a small ornery streak stayed with her through the end and was not quieted as she courageously battled melanoma for the last two years of her life. Forever family oriented, she commented throughout the years, "I'm so blessed," even in tough and harder times. She vigilantly kept ties to her siblings, many cousins, and nieces, and nephews throughout her entire life.

Jan was preceded in death by her parents, one brother, Phillip, one sister, Shirley, one stepson Cary, her first husband Kyle, and her second husband Jon.

She is survived by her children, Debbie Post (Paul), Todd Andregg (Karen), and Kyra Stromgren (Craig), Jon's children, Cody (Lori-Kate) and Christine (Mark), 12 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren, with two on the way, a sister, sister in law, cousins, numerous nieces and nephews, and lifelong friends who will miss her deeply. Her legacy of love, laughter, faith, grace, and deep family connection will live on through the countless memories and stories of those who were "so blessed" by her bright and loving presence in their lives.

The family would like to thank Bridgehaven Memory Care Facility, Opa House, and Ascend Health Hospice Care for their exceptional care given to Jan during her last year.

Mickey-Leopold in Hoxie, will oversee her service at the First United Methodist Church in Hoxie, on Saturday, June 6, at 10am CST. In lieu of flowers, memorials are suggested to Sheridan County Historical Society or Ascend Health Hospice Care in Topeka, and may be sent in care of Mickey-Leopold Funeral Home P.O. Box 987 Hoxie, Kansas 67740.

This service will be livestreamed. Please go to mickeyleopoldfuneral.com.

Byways

hills to explore via designated byways include the Glacial Hills in the northeast and the Gypsum Hills in the south-central part of the state.

Out west is the "Land and Sky" route along K-27 which cuts through Cheyenne, Sherman and Wallace counties. At the southern terminus in Sharon Springs, head east on U.S. 40 and you'll be on the "Western Vistas" trail that features Kansas' badlands.

There are two byways dedicated to fencing, the aptly named "Native Stone" from Manhattan to Dover and "Post Rock" between Lucas and Wilson.

I've traveled on all of these and can vouch they're all worth driving if you want to feel like part of the landscape as you navigate narrow lanes with mirages shimmering on the blacktop, float a little as you crest hilltops a little too fast and feel the rush of the unknown around the next corner.

Sometimes the destination is more important than the journey, but every now and then it's worth the extra effort to take the slow way. Whether it's a backroad or byway, summer is a good time to buckle up and enjoy the drive.
