TAXPAYERS' REPORT

At our last Commissioner Meeting, which was held on February 13, the Commissioners approved the 11 road work areas in Sheridan County and approved our "Area Road Supervisors" from all of these 11 road work areas. The "Area Road Supervisors" were asked to take their road maps with them and identify the "Primary Roads" in Sheridan County. To help with this work, we enlarged the maps so we could get a clearer view of the roads to identify them better. We distributed these maps and we will present them to the Commissioners at our next meeting on February 27.

This process will provide a county road map with the "Primary Roads" identified so that we can prioritize our time and taxpayer money on the most important roads first. Our "Area Road Supervisors" have done an excellent job of talking with their neighbors and getting input from the people in their area so that there is agreement about which roads are "Primary Roads." The thing I am most impressed with is the willingness of our farmers and ranchers to work together and work in an atmosphere of what's best for all of us, and not thinking about what's best for 'me'. There has never been a concerted effort like this before, where we are all working together to get Sheridan County Roads fixed! And believe me, there is complete agreement throughout Sheridan County that we cannot continue with the current structure of working on our roads. The current structure DOES NOT work, and has not worked for many, many years.

To help with this effort of rebuilding our roads, our county attorney has created agreements that make it possible for people in our community to perform various aspects of road work. These outside contractors have to be approved by the Commissioners and satisfy the liability requirement, but this is all very doable. Here again, by all of us working together we will transform our Sheridan County roads to be the BEST in Western Kansas. I know this will happen because we have the BEST people right here in Sheridan County!! "SHERIDAN COUNTY FIRST!"

Thanks for reading and have a great life!!

Yours,

Wes Bainter, Sheridan County Commissioner

Sheridan County Contracts with CodeRED to Provide Emergency Notification

Following an extensive and thorough evaluation and review of alerting systems, Sheridan County has implemented the CodeRED system, a high-speed emergency notification service provided by ONSOLVE. Public safety officials across the United States have credited CodeRED notifications for many successful events including locating missing children, apprehending wanted criminals and issuing timely evacuations.

The CodeRED system will serve as the backbone of the county's emergency planning and communications outreach. The platform will allow the county to communicate with both citizens and county personnel by using the system capabilities to send telephone calls, text messages, emails, and social media in an effort to effectively inform residents of emergencies to protect life and property. CodeRED, among other notification systems available, was selected for its unrivaled reliability and accuracy, as well as the system's global use.

"CodeRED's robust system will provide county officials with a reliable, easy-to-use interface to quickly disseminate critical information to our citizens during emergencies. We are very eager to use this technology to enhance our emergency preparedness plans," said Sheridan County Emergency Preparedness Director Don Koerperich. The county anticipates using the system to notify residents in specific geographic locations of fires, floods, drinking water emergencies and missing persons notices.

The county has also contracted the CodeRED Weather Warning system, an automated weather warning technology that delivers phone calls, text messages, and emails to registered residents and businesses within the direct path of severe weather. The CodeRED Weather Warning system is an opt-in service that automatically notifies those registered of tornado, flash flood, and severe thunderstorm warnings just minutes after an alert is issued by the National Weather Service (NWS).

The county has been provided an initial database of residential and business telephone numbers, however all residents living within Sheridan County limits are encouraged to visit <http://www.accesskansas.org/sheridan/>, choose the Emergency Management tab and then click on the CodeRED logo to enroll additional contact information including cell phone numbers, text and email addresses. This link will also allow residents to opt-in to receive the automated Weather Warnings. The direct link that will take you to the CodeRED enrollment page is <https://public.coderedweb.com/CNE/BFD7137B54BA>. Residents and businesses are encouraged to enter both a cell phone number and email address and designate the types of weather warnings to be received.

The Jennings City Library will not be open Saturday March 2. The Public Hours are Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. and Wednesday p.m. from 4:00 to 6:00. The Library wants to hear your thoughts on this time change.

All of our family made it home safely after coming to attend Wayne's funeral service. With so many people flying and driving it was a great concern. The weather was nice on Wednesday, but not so good in the later part of the week when most of the family returned home. We appreciated the wonderful luncheon at the Sunflower Senior Center.

It is great to live in small community.

Ready to Walk!

What is one of the best things you can do for your body, mind and spirit? You guessed it - walk every day!! K-State Research and Extension (KSRE) is so pleased to offer this health initiative designed to help you move more, eat better and live life to the fullest. Regular exercise, like walking, can help you live longer, maintain a healthy weight, reduce your risk of developing some cancers, reduce your risk of heart disease and stroke, reduce diabetes risk, boost your brain power, improve your mood and relieve stress. Wow - there isn't a pill that can offer all of those benefits!!

Walk Kansas is a team-based program, meaning that you are part of a 6-member team and together you will select a goal (challenge) to work toward during the eight weeks. Here are the options for your team:

Challenge 1: Discover the 8 Wonders of Kansas! This journey requires each person to get 2 1/2 hours of moderate activity per week.

Challenge 2: Go Cross Country from Troy (NE) to Elkhart (SW), which requires 4 hours of activity per person/week.

Challenge 3: Little Balkans to Nicodemus - a trail that takes you through SE Kansas and then up to Nicodemus with interesting stops along the way. This requires 6 hours of activity per person/week.

Each person logs minutes of moderate/vigorous activity and these are converted to Walk Kansas miles (15 minute = 1 mile) on the website.

Each week all the participants will receive a newsletter and will have their names put into a drawing each time they report their weekly miles. Last year the winner received a Fitbit!! All State of Kansas employees can earn FOUR Health Quest credits for participating in the program. Also, participants will have the option of completing a pre/post assessment for flexibility and the Rockport Fitness Walking Test. You will need a partner to help with the flexibility test and the walking test you can do on your own or with a partner/team. These tests are optional, but I think many participants will want to know if they have improved over the 8 weeks.

Walk Kansas 2019 begins on Sunday, March 17, 2019 and runs to May 11, 2019. This is a K-State Research and Extension program. You can enroll on line at www.walkkansasonline.org or you can come in to any of the Twin Creeks Extension District Offices, located in Hill City, Norton, Oberlin and Hoxie to enroll. If you don't have a team, and would like to join one, let us know and we will connect you with a team that have similar goals. For more information please contact us at your local Extension Office. Enrollment is due by Friday, March 15!

Fish Dishes

We may now have nearly all varieties of fish canned which formerly were to be obtained only in certain localities. Usually fish is less expensive than meat, is a valuable food to build tissue and is usually easy of digestion.

Herring Salad - Cook salt herring in boiling salted water to cover, fifteen minutes. Drain, cool, and separate into flakes; there should be a cupful. Add an equal measure of one-third inch cubes of boiled potatoes and a fourth of a cupful of hard cooked eggs. Mix thoroughly and moisten with French dressing; cover and let stand in a cold place until well chilled. Moisten with any cooked dressing, heap on a mound of crisp lettuce, sprinkle with yolks of hard cooked eggs, put through a ricer, and garnish with rings of the white of egg with bits of parsley.

Baked Fish - Wash a four-pound fish and sprinkle well inside with salt. Put it in the ice chest for two hours. Stuff it with crumbs seasoned with butter, grated onion, lemon juice, the grated rind, salt and pepper. A few oysters may be added if enjoyed. Sew up the fish and place in a dripping pan to bake. Cover with slices of bacon and reduce the heat after the first twenty minutes; bake until the fish is tender. The last few minutes of baking the pork may be removed, the fish sprinkled with crumbs and browned in the oven.

Nice Ways with Meat

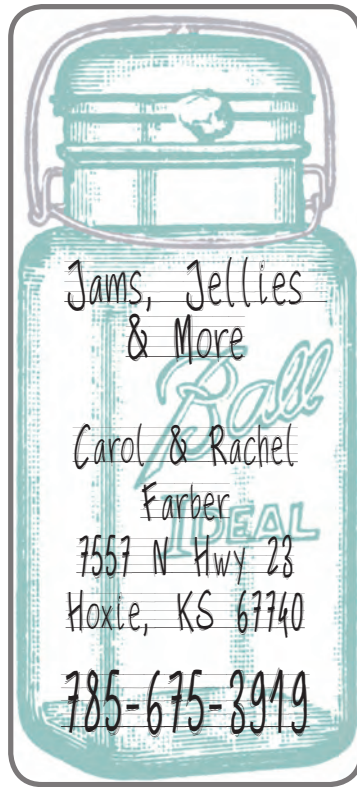

Liver is quite an elegant dish, par-boiled, then larded with salt pork and baked in the oven surrounded with chopped carrot, onion, the juice of a lemon, a bay leaf and boiling water to cook. Baste the meat while roasting.

Ragout of Mutton - Remove the skin from serving sized pieces of mutton stew, brown in hot fat, add a sliced onion, two sliced carrots, two cupfuls of potatoes, sliced, and a few mushrooms add to the delicacy of the flavor. The dry ones may be used if soaked over night. Cook ten minutes, then place in a cooker for six or eight hours or simmer on the back part of the stove.

Cornbeef Hash - This common dish served uncommonly is most savory. Rub the inside of the frying pan with a slice of onion. Put in a tablespoonful of butter and when hot add a pint of chipped corned beef, a pint of chopped boiled potatoes and a half teaspoonful of salt, a fourth of a cupful of cream and a half teaspoonful of paprika. Spread evenly over the frying pan and let it brown underneath. When done, fold over and turn out on a hot platter.

Bill Waite took the hounds out last Sunday to exercise them, not to hunt, we would not have the people think he would do such a thing, but he caught eleven jack-rabbits and there is no need of saying that it was a bad day for rabbits either.

Experience is a good teacher, but in many cases it comes a little high. Last week an old man living near Guy, sued one of his neighbors for wages amounting to about $6.00 and got a judgment for that amount and the costs amounting to $24.00. It seems that his employer had an idea he could beat him out of it, but there is where he made his mistake.

They were to run in two weeks from that time by Mr. Potter didn't show up and they were to meet twice since that but Potter was afraid to appear. Mr. Potter you had better keep your mouth closed and keep such challenges out of the papers.

From Colby To Kearney, Calvin Ochs Leads UNK Wrestling Team with Toughness, Dedication

By Tyler Ellyson, UNK Communications
KEARNEY – Calvin Ochs isn't a big talker.

He's not the rah-rah guy who motivates his teammates with enthralling speeches.

The University of Nebraska at Kearney wrestler lets his actions speak for themselves.

"I know it's pretty cliché, but he's a leader by example," said UNK head wrestling coach Dalton Jensen. "As tough as our sport is, as combative as our sport is, you need to know you have a guy who can step out and compete at a high level every time and not back down from a challenge. That's someone we have in Calvin Ochs."

The fifth-year senior demonstrates his toughness on a daily basis.

Ochs, the top-ranked Division II wrestler at 165 pounds, is still battling a left shoulder injury he suffered during the 2016-17 season. The injury, followed by an unsuccessful surgery, forced him to miss the entire 2017-18 season and continues to cause problems for Ochs, who wears a protective brace during matches.

"My shoulder has a mind of its own," Ochs said. "At this point I just let it do its thing while I do my thing."

Although the injury has limited him to just seven matches this season, he doesn't view it as a weakness. It's more of a motivator.

"This is the stuff I live for," Ochs said. "Nothing gets me more excited than being injured and still being able to beat the best and be the best. That extra challenge is what makes wrestling fun for me."

Ochs is undefeated this season, with victories over seventh-ranked Kyle Jolas of Lindenwood, ninth-ranked Devin Fitzpatrick of St. Cloud State, 2018 All-American Devin Austin of Pittsburgh-Johnstown and 2017 national finalist Brock Wingbermuehle of McKendree University. He went 3-0 at the National Duals, where the second-ranked Lopers finished third for the second consecutive season.

"I like the big-time matches," Ochs said. "I don't care so much for wrestling the average kid. I want every match to be a dogfight and a battle, and I want to come out on top. That's what it's all about."

That internal drive is what separates the two-time Division II All-American from his competition.

"He wants to challenge himself at the highest level," Jensen said. "He's a small-town, tough farm kid from Kansas and he carries that over into the athletics side."

Road to Unk
Ochs had that mentality long before he arrived at UNK.

The Hoxie, Kansas, native was a two-time state champion in high school, posting a 46-0 record as a senior in 2012-13.

He started his collegiate career at Colby Community College, about 30 miles away from his hometown. Ochs wanted to remain close to his family, and he had a strong relationship with head coach David Nordhues, a three-time Nebraska state champion from Greeley High School who wrestled at Colby before becoming a two-time All-American at Fort Hays State University.

"I had options to go other places, but I really respected him and liked what I was getting out of him," Ochs said of Nordhues.

The 165-pounder excelled during his only season at Colby, finishing as the national runner-up and a National Junior College Athletic Association All-American.

Then the sport took a backseat to other priorities.

Ochs left school after the fall 2014 semester and returned to the family farm to help his mother. After spending more than a year away from wrestling, he faced another tough decision.

Ochs planned to enroll at Fort Hays State and was less than 24 hours away from heading to campus to sign the paperwork when he received an unexpected phone call. Hall-of-fame coach Marc Bauer, who led the Loper wrestling program from 1999 to 2016, wanted to chat.

Bauer previously coached another wrestler from Hoxie, Kansas, and Colby Community College – Tyler Baker – who also happened to be Ochs' cousin. Baker told Bauer his cousin was looking for a new school, and the UNK coach was immediately interested.

The talent was undeniable, but Bauer also saw a young man who was willing to work hard and set a good example for his teammates.

"That's what I was hearing from everyone, that he's just a good kid," said Bauer, who currently serves as UNK's interim athletic director.

Ochs' next trip to Fort Hays

State came as a member of the UNK wrestling team.

One More Goal

The 24-year-old calls the decision to attend UNK "a blessing."

"It's given me the opportunity to get my priorities right and figure out what I want," said Ochs, who will graduate in May with a bachelor's degree in business administration with a finance emphasis.

"Looking at me now versus when I first got up here, I'm a completely different person. And I can attribute a lot of that to the program, the school and the town," he said. "It's just a lot of positive energy and vibes, and people want the best for you. I think that's really helped me out along the way."

Bauer has also noticed that maturation, which he attributes to Ochs' mental toughness, focus and commitment to

Chasing Clovers: Smiling Cloverbuds

By Patsy L. Maddy, Twin Creeks Extension District, 4-H Youth Development Agent

4-H Cloverbuds bloom into independent, confident, successful adults through activities that teach "Learning by Doing" – a 4-H member's way of acquiring new skills and reaching "To Make the Best Better" – a goal for each member to improve themselves. The Cloverbud program provides fun, activity-focused, non-competitive, positive group-centered learning creating smiling faces on Cloverbud youth.

The 4-H Cloverbud program is an educational youth development opportunity specifically for 5- and 6-year old children. This is an exciting way to start your child in the 4-H program or include a younger sibling of a current 4-H family.

Safety when working with children is top priority in the Kansas 4-H program. All volunteers must complete a certification program as well as Cloverbuds training before selected to serve as a leader for this group. Parents know they are leaving their children in a safe learning environment during Cloverbud activities.

Your local K-State Research and Extension office organizes the group with cooperation between the county 4-H Council and community 4-H clubs. Older 4-H members work with Cloverbuds developing leadership skills.

Cloverbud members are encouraged to participate in local day camp activities that would include educational, hands-on activities. These activities help your child begin building life skills, such as doing to learn and making new friends. The Cloverbuds curriculum is designed to help youth begin developing a foundation of skills that he or she will be able to apply to a variety of activities as they grow.

Participants in this program experience a non-competitive, positive group activity atmosphere leading youth to success. Cloverbuds would be encouraged to display their group projects at the county fair with equal recognition given to all participants.

Goals of the Cloverbud program include initiating independence and self-direction, getting along with others, making positive choices, learning to learn, and enjoying constructive and creative play. 4-H Cloverbuds embraces the 4-H core values of the 4-H colors, emblem, pledge, motto, and slogan that is emphasized throughout a youth's 4-H career.

4-H Colors: White symbolizes purity, and green, which is nature's most common color, represents life, springtime and youth.

4-H Emblem: The green four-leaf clover has a white H on each leaf to represent the four Hs: Head, Heart, Hands, and Health.

4-H Pledge: I Pledge my Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, and My Health to better living, For My Club, My Community, My Country, and My World.

4-H Motto: "To Make the Best Better" is a goal for each member to improve themselves.

4-H Slogan: "Learn by Doing" is a 4-H member's way of acquiring new skills.

Are you curious how rabbits air-condition themselves? Do F-stops cause your brain to freeze? Twin Creeks Extension District is excited about organizing fun, positive activities for our 5- and 6-year old youth in Norton, Decatur, Sheridan and Graham counties.

Please contact Patsy Maddy at your local Extension office to find out more about "Inspiring Kids To Do" through the Cloverbud program. Information will also be posted on our website at www.twincreeks.ksu.edu and our Facebook page.

So Many Opportunities, So Many Choices – Put a Smile on your 5- or 6-year old by enrolling them in the Cloverbud program. Join 4-H today and be a part of it all!

KFB Member Health Care Benefit Passes in Senate

Manhattan, Kansas - Today, the Kansas Senate approved by a vote of 28 to 11 SB 32, a bill that will allow Kansas Farm Bureau to establish health care benefit that offers coverage specifically and solely for Farm Bureau members in Kansas.

"Health coverage costs for farmers and ranchers in Kansas is the most significant expense in their budgets," says Terry Holdren, CEO/General Counsel of Kansas Farm Bureau. "We applaud Kansas Senate President Susan Wagle and those Kansas Senators who took a firm stand with Kansas farmers and ranchers today."

At times health care costs represent 30 to 40 percent of annual budgeted expenses. Most do not qualify for federal Affordable Care Act (ACA) subsidized products and many seek employment off the farm solely for the health care benefit. A recent study 65 percent of agriculture producers view health care as the number one threat to the future of their operation.

Preliminary research shows cost savings of greater than 30 percent for Kansans compared to health care options currently available to many farm and ranch families.

"Today, the Kansas Senate chose our farmers over a broken Obamacare system," Susan Wagle, President of the Kansas Senate, says. "Senate Bill 32 provides critical relief to Kansans who are being crushed by skyrocketing premiums and deductibles by providing them with a more affordable health care option."

"Today the Kansas Senate created a path for affordable health care for farmers and ranchers," Sen. Rob Olson, chair of the Senate Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance, says. "This was a vote for the future of our great state."

If approved, the program will aim to reduce the number of uninsured Kansans by offering coverage at attractive premiums and will create competition and free-market options for health coverage while supporting rural hospitals and providers.

Kansas Farm Bureau's mission is to strengthen agriculture and the lives of Kansans through advocacy, education and service

KDA Offers Morel Mushroom Identification Classes

The Kansas Department of Agriculture, in partnership with K-State Research and Extension, is offering two classes to help people earn the necessary approval to sell wild morel mushrooms. The classes will take place in South Hutchinson on March 12 and in Eureka on March 19.

The classes are intended to help ensure that wild harvested mushrooms sold as morels in the state of Kansas are safe to consume. Current regulations under KDA's food safety and lodging program require that mushrooms picked in the wild for sale must be individually inspected for safety by an approved mushroom identifier. Upon completion of this class, participants will be recognized as approved morel identifiers in order to meet this regulation.

The class in South Hutchinson will be held on Tuesday, March 12, 2019, from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Reno County Extension office, 2 W. 10th Ave. in South Hutchinson. The session in Eureka will be held on Tuesday, March 19, 2019, from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Eureka Public Library, 606 N. Main St. in Eureka.

Registration for the classes is now open and is free. Pre-registration is not required but is highly encouraged. For questions or to register for the South Hutchinson class, contact the Reno County Extension Office at 620-662-2371 or ppaulsen@ksu.edu, or register online at bit.ly/MorelWorkshopReno. For questions or to register for the Eureka class, contact the Greenwood County Extension Office at 620-583-7455 or lyndsayshorter@ksu.edu, or register online at bit.ly/MorelClassSignUp.

Morel identification classes were also held earlier this year in conjunction with farmers' market workshops. For more information about morel mushroom identification opportunities, contact Londa Nwadike, KSU/MU extension food safety specialist, at 913-307-7391 or lnwadike@ksu.edu.

China Trade Talks Still in Progress

The meeting between Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping will now take place after March 1—the date that tariffs could go up to 25 percent on $200 billion worth of Chinese goods. Two administration officials, however, have said the tariffs are likely to remain at 10 percent, made possible through a presidential order. Trade talks do seem to be moving, China is buying farm products, purchasing significant shipments of soybeans just this week. However, overall negotiations still take time. The trade deficit between the U.S. and China also fell for the first time in six months. Purdue University's Ag Barometer reported farmer confidence shot up to its highest levels since June of last year, up 16 percentage points in January. The rise in confidence is largely due to the Trump Administration's Market Facilitation Program.

Trade Talks Update: Japan is Next

While trade talks between the U.S. and China have been getting all the attention, two top U.S. agriculture experts say the next focus is expected to be Japan.

The U.S. Trade Representatives' office Ag Negotiator Greg Doud and Under Secretary for Trade and Foreign Agricultural Affairs Ted McKinney spoke about it during February's Agricultural Outlook Forum.

They say the urgency to reach a bilateral deal with Japan stems from similar agreements made by Japan in recent months with competitor countries. Those deals could impact Japanese-bound U.S. ag exports, especially U.S. beef.

Dan Halstrom is the President and CEO of USMEF. He told us, "We still have a 38.5% duty on U.S. beef going into Japan, while our major competitors through CPTPP or TPP, without the U.S., are now benefiting from reduced tariffs".

Under Secretary McKinney says U.S.-Japanese relations remain strong. He acknowledges that after a while price can wear away. That's why he says there is also an urgency to get to Japan, so the U.S. can maintain a market presence.

Kansas Farm Bureau's Member Health Care Benefit Coverage Passes Senate

Wednesday, the Kansas Senate approved by a vote of 28 to 11 SB 32, a bill that will allow Kansas Farm Bureau to establish health care benefit that offers coverage specifically and solely for Farm Bureau members in Kansas.

"Health coverage costs for farmers and ranchers in Kansas is the most significant expense in their budgets," says Terry Holdren, CEO/General Counsel of Kansas Farm Bureau. "We applaud Kansas Senate President Susan Wagle and those Kansas Senators who took a firm stand with Kansas farmers and ranchers."

At times health care costs represent 30 to 40 percent of annual budgeted expenses. Most do not qualify for federal Affordable Care Act (ACA) subsidized products and many seek employment off the farm solely for the health care benefit. A recent study says 65 percent of agriculture producers view health care as the number one threat to the future of their operation.

Preliminary research shows cost savings of greater than 30 percent for Kansans compared to health care options currently available to many farm and ranch families.

"Today, the Kansas Senate chose our farmers over a broken Obamacare system," Susan Wagle, President of the Kansas Senate, said after the vote on Wednesday. "Senate Bill 32 provides critical relief to Kansans who are being crushed by skyrocketing premiums and deductibles by providing them with a more affordable health care option." "Today the Kansas Senate created a path for affordable health care for farmers and ranchers," Sen. Rob Olson, chair of the Senate Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance, said Wednesday. "This was a vote for the future of our great state."

If approved, the program will aim to reduce the number of uninsured Kansans by offering coverage at attractive premiums and will create competition and free-market options for health coverage while supporting rural hospitals and providers.

USDA Offers Targeted Farm Loan Funding for Underserved Groups and Beginning Farmers

The USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds producers that FSA offers targeted farm ownership and farm operating loans to assist underserved applicants as well as beginning farmers and ranchers.

USDA defines underserved applicants as a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic, or gender prejudice because of their identity as members of the group without regard to their individual qualities. For farm loan program purposes, targeted underserved groups are women, African Americans, American Indians and Alaskan Natives, Hispanics and Asians and Pacific Islanders.

Underserved or beginning farmers and ranchers who cannot obtain commercial credit from a bank can apply for either FSA direct loans or guaranteed loans. Direct loans are made to applicants by FSA. Guaranteed loans are made by lending institutions who arrange for FSA to guarantee the loan. FSA can guarantee up to 95 percent of the loss of principal and interest on a loan. The FSA guarantee allows lenders to make agricultural credit available to producers who do not meet the lender's normal underwriting criteria.

The direct and guaranteed loan program provides for two types of loans: farm ownership loans and farm operating loans. In addition to customary farm operating and ownership loans, FSA now offers Microloans through the direct loan program. The focus of Microloans is on the financing needs of small, beginning farmer, niche and non-traditional farm operations. Microloans are available for both ownership and operating finance needs. To learn more about microloans, visit www.fsa.usda.gov/microloans.

To qualify as a beginning producer, the individual or entity must meet the eligibility requirements outlined for direct or guaranteed loans. Additionally, individuals and all entity members must have operated a farm for less than 10 years. Applicants must materially or substantially participate in the operation.

For more information on FSA's farm loan programs and targeted underserved and beginning farmer guidelines, visit www.fsa.usda.gov/farmloans.

Wheat Scoop: Mexico is Essential Market for Kansas Wheat Farmers

With discussions on trade dominating the public discourse, it is vital for Kansas wheat farmers to preserve a trading partnership with our neighbor to the south. Mexico has become the largest buyer of U.S. wheat in the world. Mexico buys about 106.5 million bushels of wheat from the United States each year, including 55 million bushels of hard red winter (HRW) wheat.

Flour millers in Mexico generate strong demand for U.S. hard red winter wheat, the primary class of wheat grown in Kansas. In MY 2015/16, Mexico surpassed Nigeria and Brazil to become the top market for U.S. HRW.

A rising number of industrial bakeries, along with traditional artisan bakeries, account for about 70 percent of wheat consumption according to CANIMOLT, the association representing Mexican millers. That puts Kansas farmers and other HRW producers in a good position to meet that demand. Being closer to HRW production and having a highly functioning ability to import a large share of HRW directly via rail from the Plains states, is an advantage for Mexico's buyers.

Yet our customers there have many other sources of milling wheat to which they can turn. In response to rising world grain prices in 2008, Mexico lifted a 67 percent import tariff on wheat from outside the United States and Canada. To date, the tariff has not been reapplied and the Mexican import market is currently tariff-free for wheat from all qualified origins.

The United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) has been signed by leaders of the United States, Canada and Mexico. It now needs to be ratified by Congress. If it doesn't pass and the President pulls out of North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), Mexico could begin to shift their imports to other origins.

The negative impact on the United States would include a net loss of 256,000 U.S. jobs, a net loss of at least 50,000 jobs in the U.S. food and agriculture industry, and a drop in GDP of $13 billion from the farm sector alone. NAFTA withdrawal would also disrupt critical industry supply chains, close markets, eliminate jobs, and increase prices for the basic needs of American consumers.

The USMCA also includes important provisions for wheat farmers. Most notably, USMCA retains tariff-free access to imported U.S. wheat for our long-time flour milling customers in Mexico. Congress must vote to ratify USMCA. That is a crucial step toward rebuilding trust in U.S. wheat as a reliable supplier in this important, neighboring market.

USDA Acreage Reporting Deadline for Perennial Forage Changes to July 15

USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) has established a new acreage reporting deadline for perennial forage for 2019 and subsequent years. Previously set in the fall, the new deadline is July 15 for all states, except for Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Timely and accurate acreage reports for all crops and land uses, including prevented planting or failed acreage, are the foundation for many FSA program benefits, including disaster programs for livestock owners. Producers must report their acreage to maintain program eligibility.

Producers who have coverage for perennial forage under the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) must report their crop acreage by the earlier of any of the following:

- The established acreage reporting date (July 15)
- 15 calendar days before the onset of harvest or grazing of the specific crop acreage being reported
- The established normal harvest date for the end of the coverage period.

Senator Rick Billinger

February 24, 2019

Two important bills continue to move through the legislative process. SB9, which will make a $115M, postponed payment from 2016 to KPERS, passed out of the House this week. Since this bill has passed both chambers it will now head to the Governor's desk. The Governor has three options: she can sign the bill and it will become law, she can veto the bill which will send it back to the Senate where it will take 27 votes to override her veto and then to the House where it will take 84 votes to override her veto or the Governor can leave it on her desk for 10 days without signing it and the bill will then become law. The vote was very bipartisan and passed both chambers unanimously. Governor Kelly is not interested in making the missed payment to KPERS. Governor Kelly has her own plan to amortize the KPERS unfunded liability, which would cost the state an additional $7.4 billion over the term of the amortized payment.

A second important bill passed out of the Senate this week and has been passed to the House for a vote is SB32. SB32 allows the Kansas Farm Bureau to establish a health care benefit that offers coverage specifically for Farm Bureau members in Kansas. SB32 aims to reduce the number of uninsured Kansans by creating competition and free-market options for health care. SB32 is the Farm Bureau's solution to addressing the critical need for KFB members to find affordable health care coverage. A recent study pointed out that 65% of agriculture producers view health care as the number one threat to the future of their operation.

I would like to thank Fort Hays State University President Dr. Tisa Mason, Coach Dr. Duane Shepherd and his wife assistant coach Denise Shepherd, Executive Director DeBra Prideaux and 26 members of the Fort Hays State University shooting club for making the trip to Topeka last Thursday. It was my honor to recognize the Fort Hays State University Shooting Club in the Senate chambers for earning the SCTP Division II National Championship title. This is the fourth national championship title and the club has also earned four runner-up championship titles.

The Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee held hearings for SB162, which would require foster care contractors to inform the Kansas Department for Children and Families (DCF) within 24 hours if any child in the foster care system goes missing. The bill would give DCF 48 hours to then inform legislators, the Governor and media about missing children. In addition, SB 162 would compel DCF to fine their private contractors $500 daily for violations of the proposed disclosure law. This legislation comes after multiple reports over previous years about missing children in DCF. Currently there are around 7,500 children within the Kansas foster care system.

Town Hall meeting times and locations have been scheduled and I look forward to seeing many of my constituents from the 40th Senate District.

I am honored and grateful to represent the 40th Senate District in Kansas. Please do not hesitate to contact or call me with your questions and concerns, my office number is 785 296-7399 or my cell is 785 899-4700. If you are in Topeka stop by my office at 236-E.

Create Your Own "Blue Zone" with Walk Kansas

Places in the world where people live longer and healthier, without medication or disability, are known as blue zones. Here, it is common to see people live to 90 or even 100 years old. In partnership with National Geographic, journalist Dan Buettner thoroughly researched and identified these five blue zones: Okinawa, Japan; Sardinia (Italian island); Loma Linda, California; Costa Rica's Nicoya Peninsula; and an isolated Greek island, Ikaria.

Why do people in these areas live so long and so well? The answer is simple — lifestyle. Their lifestyle includes a healthful diet, daily exercise, and a low-stress style of living that focuses on family, purpose, religion, and meaning. Simplicity seems to be a thread that runs through the lifestyle of those living in these blue zones. Let's take a look at the lifestyle characteristics more closely.

What does a healthy diet look like in blue zone regions? Their diets are loaded with vegetables, fruits, fish, and nuts. They eat very little meat, sugar, fat, and processed foods. They do enjoy red wine, along with goat's milk and local teas as beverages. Studies show that heart disease and diabetes are linked to a lifetime of obesity and poor diet. People in blue zones eat healthfully most of the time and, not surprisingly, they suffer from these major diseases less frequently or not at all.

Another common theme across all blue zones is a daily routine of exercise. You won't see treadmills or fitness centers in these places, however. Those living in blue zones don't need to artificially incorporate exercise into their lives. Their physical activity is built naturally into their environment and into daily living. People climb mountains and walk through hills, they work the land, and generally use their bodies to do all of their daily activities. Often, their exercise is slow and relaxed, but ongoing. Their bodies are tough and healthy. Even in their 90s, they are often able to live active, normal, healthy lives and most are free from needing medication. The takeaway here is that you have to work your body every day and avoid long periods of sitting.

Those in blue zones also live a life of low stress and one that is filled with happiness. If you are being a better student-athlete and person.

"A lot of kids who have gone through what he's gone through, they would have hung it up a long time ago," Bauer said.

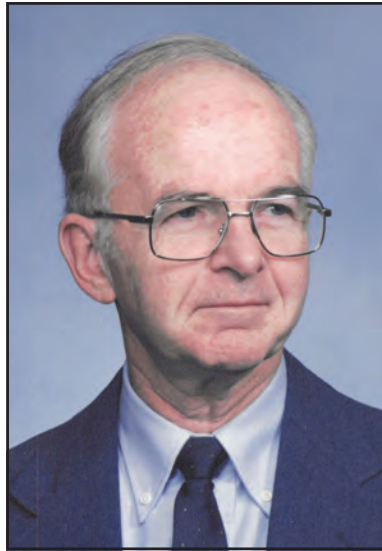

Ochs went 24-6 in his first season at UNK, winning a Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) title and finishing fourth at the national tournament. As a junior, he put together a 27-6 campaign, adding a second MIAA title, a regional championship and another fourth-place finish at nationals.

Those are impressive accomplishments, but Ochs isn't satisfied with a season that ends in a loss. He won't tell you he can win a national title during his final go-around — that's "bad luck" — but a couple other guys are willing to do the talking for him.

"He would have won a national title last year, and he's got the ability to win a national title this year," Bauer said.

Dr. Richard O. Kratzer

February 16, 2019 ~ April 13, 1935

Gorham, ME – Richard O. Kratzer, 83, passed away peacefully February 16, 2019, at Gosnell Memorial House, Scarborough, Maine. He was born in Valley Falls, Kansas on April 13, 1935 to Oren De and Martha V. Kratzer. He was a dedicated husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather and friend to all. He grew up in Salina, KS with brothers Barry, Bruce and Oren, Jr. III. He graduated from Salina High School.

He completed his undergraduate degree at Fort Hays State College, KS. He earned his master's degree from Pittsburgh State University, Kansas. He taught high school for nine years and taught at Northwest Missouri State College for three years. In 1967 he moved his young family to New York to attend New York University while earning his Doctorate in Mathematics. After earning his PhD in two years, he accepted a teaching position at the University of Southern Maine and became a tenured math professor for 34 years. Throughout his life Richard was dedicated to his passion, which was teaching. A creative individual, inspired by mathematics and the laws of nature, he designed ways to assist every student. He most enjoyed training elementary teachers and working with young students. In retirement, he frequently discussed his love of teaching and his desire to return to the classroom.

His other passion was his family and the multitude of grandchildren. He coached, watched, supported and was always on the sideline or in the audience of all his family's events. He had a deep love for his kitty Tazzy, as well as his late best friends, Ebony and Bubba! Known as Bomo to his grandkids, he will be remembered for his sense of humor, generosity and how he always had Swedish Fish and York Peppermint Patties on hand for when they visited. He was always willing to help others in times of need.

He is survived by his loving spouse of 61 years, Sandra. Sandra and Richard were inseparable and could always be found enjoying their favorite place, their cottage on Worthley Pond. They shared enjoyment in feeding and watching the birds in their yard, planting and growing flowers, listening to music, watching college sports and admiring Richard's re-discovery of drawing and painting. Sandra was by his side for the last several years taking care of him and was holding his hand when he passed.

Richard is survived by his four children: Marty Berry and her husband Danny Berry of Gorham; Kay Young and her husband Chris Dring of Overland Park, KS; David Kratzer and his wife Pam of Gorham; and Doug Kratzer and his wife Carrie-Ann of Marlborough, MA; his grandchildren: Kane Mason and partner Sarah Hendricks of Sebago, ME; Angela Mason-Bogue and her husband Michael of Concord, NH; Cole Young of Aliso Viejo, CA; Ethan Young of Minneapolis, MN and Peter Dring of Minneapolis, MN; Cassie Kratzer of Portland, ME; Mia, Ryan and Julia Kratzer of Gorham, ME; Ella and Emily Kratzer of Marlborough, MA; and Justin Berry of Saugus, MA. Great-grandchildren include Kayley, Kyle, Isabelle, and Isaiah Mason; and Caroline and Crosby Bogue.

The entire Kratzer family wish to extend a heartfelt thank you to Home Instead staff of Gorham, Earold Bennett and the staff at Gosnell Memorial House for their exception care.

In lieu of flowers, contribution may be made to American Heart Association.

Visiting were held Saturday, February 23, from 3:00-4:30pm with a service immediately following at the Windham Chapel of Dolby, Blais & Segee, 434 River Road, Windham. To express condolences or to participate in Richard's online tribute please visit www.DolbyBlaisSegee.com.

Treat Your Teeth Well!

Do you know how to take good care of your teeth? Regular visits to your dentist and daily care will help your teeth last a lifetime! Sometimes you might get tired of brushing or want to "take a vacation" from flossing. But, keeping your teeth clean, healthy and shining brightly is an everyday responsibility.

Remember to:

- brush before breakfast and before bed
- floss daily
- go to your dentist for regular cleanings
- try not to eat too many sugary or sticky foods

By the way, those guys down there are the plaque pests, STICKY and DULL. They will be all over your teeth if you do not brush!

Read the clues to fill in the crossword:

- to take pictures of the inside of your teeth to see if they are healthy

- thin thread used daily for cleaning between your teeth
- person trained to clean teeth is a dental
- four top and four bottom front teeth used for biting
- number of first or "baby" teeth
- thin, sticky layer of bacteria that forms on teeth
- chemical in teeth and bones
- hole in tooth from decay
- hard substance left on teeth if plaque is not removed

Words of Wisdom!

A balanced diet will help you to keep smiling. Remember that foods from the dairy group give you calcium to strengthen your teeth and bones. Try not to eat snacks and foods that are too sticky or that have "hidden" sugars in them.

Shop for: fresh fruit, veggies, rice cakes, soup, cheese cubes and so on.

Do you believe in this little being? (To see who it is, use the directions on the right above.)
